Dear Mom + Dad,

How is Dad feeling? Better I hope.
I just had quite an experience. I'm just getting over Scarlatina. It came on suddenly on a Wed. I broke out Thurs night Sat and Sat night I felt like I was in and out of this world. The pain in my head was so terrific, and it was like a roar. I couldn't hear. Well anyway I had Jay sleeping in the bedroom next to ours to keep him from getting sick. After everyone went to bed I seemed to get sicker + sicker it seemed as though a dark cloud kept trying to cover me then I'd see a flash of light and struggle to get to it I was conscious enough to know I needed help so I finally got Jay awake and he administered to me.

As soon as he did the pain started to subside. It didn't go away all at once or anything like that but I knew I was going to be all right.
It's an experience I don't want to repeat... So far no one else has had it I hope they don't. It's a child hood disease and hard on people my age. I had gone to the Dr and was taking penicillin capsules too.

This has been some winter pay worked for awhile but we didn't get enough to pay our bills out of it. I don't know whether we'll be able to do any building or not but we hope you can come down for all the graduation anyway. I thought maybe Mom + I could go to the library in Mesa that is if it's open. It surely isn't closed all summer.
